

Do you believe in the determinative power of education? Do you believe that even the relatively small group of 34 young professionals can make a huge difference? Do you think that one is never too old or smart enough to develop new skills?

If you love the thought of managing bigger projects independently, and if you want to be the part of a dynamically growing, highly professional community, apply.

What we would like you to do

- ✓ Be useful — Make sure we get our message across by planning promotional campaigns for our events and projects
- ✓ Be active — Create social media posts and content
- ✓ Be creative — Think out of the box to gain people's attention & strengthen the Case Solvers brand

You are our dream candidate, if you

- ✓ are good at convincing people
- ✓ like people but also love and can work independently
- ✓ understand the nuances of communication and can totally feel the difference between 'inquire' and 'ask about' in a text
- ✓ know how to place a Facebook ad and interpret data
- ✓ interested in (and preferably have done) creative writing
- ✓ don't need one of your friends' help to translate this job description for you, and you could easily write at this level in English and in Hungarian
- ✓ can start January 2021 the latest, and work at least 20 hours per week
- ✓ have an active student status

We offer..

- ✓ a steep learning curve
- ✓ real-life responsibilities from day 1
- ✓ open ears for your smart suggestions
- ✓ competitive salary
- ✓ a friendly environment and a lively community life (due to Covid-19 online at the time being)
- ✓ travelling opportunities (of course when covid-19 is all over)
- ✓ an adult position (you can define your own working hours as you find the most fit your life)
- ✓ an enthusiastic community that works for skilling up people & society

Sounds good? :)

We are looking forward to reading your CV.
