

16th February 2026

Prof. László Gulácsi MD, MSc. Ph.D. Ph.D., Ph.D. Ph.D., Habil. DSc.

Top 1% researcher Social Sciences and Humanities

László Gulácsi works as a Vice Rector for Research and a Professor at Health Economics¹. Member of the Standing Committee of Pharmacy, Hungarian Academy of Science. He is the coordinator of the Higher Education Innovation Training Working Group of the Hungarian Innovation Association.

By profession he is a physician (Debrecen Medical University), having university degrees of programming mathematics (Kossuth Lajos University of Arts and Sciences, Debrecen), mathematical economics and sociology (Corvinus University of Budapest) and health economics (University of York).

He is qualified physician in social medicine.

He received PhD degrees from the University of Amsterdam, Corvinus University of Budapest, Semmelweis Medical University Budapest and from the Debrecen Medical University. Habilitated at the University of Pecs.

He is a Doctor of the Hungarian Academy of Science (V. Department of Medical Sciences).

He received a certificate as ISO 56001 Lead Auditor in 2024.

The Bulkley-Barry-Cooper Professorship was awarded to him by the London Institute for Healthcare Engineering, King's Health Partners in 2025.

At 2025 World's Best Scientists 2025, Research.com Social Sciences and Humanities in Hungary Leader Award was received, D Index: 40, citations: 5650, publications: 317, world ranking: 4496, National Ranking: 3. László Gulácsi: Social Sciences and Humanities H-index & Awards - Academic Profile | Research.com

2026 Certificate: Digital Education Council (DEC) 'AI Literacy for All' digital course.

He is a member of the Editorial Board of the European Journal of Health Economics IF:3,0 (2024).

He worked as vice rector for research Corvinus University of Budapest 2018-2019. He was a founding head of Department of Health Economics (2013-2020) and founding head of Health Economics and Health Technology Assessment Research Center, Corvinus University of Budapest (2002-2013). He is the founding past President of the Health and Health Care Economics Section of the Hungarian Economics Association (2010-2015). He was the funding head of the Innovation Management Doctoral School Obuda University till the end of 2025 where he is a core member. The Doctoral School is accredited by the Hungarian

¹ Health Economics Research Centre, University Research and Innovation Center, Obuda University of Budapest, Hungary.

Accreditation Committee, according to the requirements of the Hungarian Academy of Science, IX. Economics and Law Department.

So far, he has been involved in 18 European Commission funded research projects (Framework Programmes, FP6, FP7, H2020), as a research leader, coordinator or participant.

Current projects: Development and evaluation of innovative and digital health technologies; Thematic Excellence Programme, Research Leader (National Research, Development and Innovation Fund project TKP202 NKTA 36); web: <https://uni-obuda.hu/tkp-en/>

Changes in the Socio-economic Burden of Epidermolysis Bullosa in Europe, BUR-EB; researcher (funded by the EU Horizon 2020 Research and Innovation Programme with the support of the European Joint Programme on Rare Diseases COFUND-EJP N825575, with the support of the NKFIH as a national participant, 2019-2.1.7-ERA-NET).

Publications, Scientometric: To date he (co)authored 814 scientific articles in peer reviewed journals, published 16 books, 78 book chapters on health economics, public health, health technology assessment, health policy and quality improvement.

IF: 456,063; GoogleScholar: Citations: 8645; Hirsch index 53.

He has successfully supervised the completion of 8 PhD thesis.

Obuda University: <https://uni-obuda.hu/szemely/prof-laszlo-gulacsi-dsc/>